\ From 2008 the Dutch Tax Administration can designate an institution to be an "Public Benefit Organisation" (Dutch: Algemeen Nut Beogende Instelling, ANBI). At least 90% of the efforts of an ANBI has to be focused on the general good. And since 2012 the 'culturele ANBI' can profit (until at least 2018) from even more Dutch tax advantages.*

The most important conditions are:

- The ANBI can not be a company with capital divided into shares, a cooperative, a mutual insurance society or another body that may issue participation certificates.*
- At least 90% of the ANBI's efforts must be focused on the general good. The ANBI and the persons directly involved in the ANBI must comply with the integrity requirements.*
- A ANBI director or person determining the policy may not treat the ANBI's assets as personal assets. The assets must be segregated.*
- A ANBI may not retain more assets than reasonably required for the institutions work. For this reason the ANBI's assets must remain limited.*
- The ANBI directors' remuneration must be restricted to an expense allowance or a minimum attendance fee.*
- A ANBI must possess an up-to-date policy plan.*
- The ANBI's costs must be in reasonable proportion to its expenditure.*
- The ANBI Funds remaining after the dissolution must be allocated to a general good objective identical to the ANBI's objective.*
- A ANBI is governed by specific administrative obligation...read more*
